Order Outcome of Deadlock Between House and Senate Naval Committee

Employees of the navy yards of the country will be startled today over the orders issued over the signature of Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, acting secretary of the navy. The order practically directs that unless the naval appropriation bill is passed by Saturday next the navy yards of the country will be shut down. This order is the outcome of a row between the house and the senate naval committee over two battleships. The order in part is as follows:

"After June 30, 1912, unless there be action by Congress, there will be no current appropriations for the pay of the navy, for pay miscellaneous, for contingent expenses of the navy, for the work of the bureaus of the department, for the naval academy, marine corps or naval home."

The naval service must, therefore, be lawfully maintained without such appropriations. All officers and seamen of the navy will continue to perform their respective duties under existing orders.

Employees for whose employment, after June 30, 1912, no appropriations may apply will be allowed to continue on duty where the work in which they are engaged is, in the opinion of the department or its proper representatives, necessary to meet a sudden emergency which may involve the loss of human life or the destruction of property, provided they will stipulate that they work voluntarily and without contract or agreement that they will be paid therefor, and in such cases they will be given certificates stating the time and character of the service, and that they were voluntarily rendered without contract or agreement and that the holders will have no claim for compensation unless Congress shall make an appropriation therefor."

The order resulted in activity among politicians all over the country, and even the Democratic senators and congressmen now at the convention at Baltimore were sought to do something to overcome this condition.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Winthrop later stated that unless the appropriations were made by Saturday over 20000 men on navy yards would be affected.

BRYAN REFUSES PEACE PROFFER FROM COMMITTEE

Parker's Name Goes Before Convention Today--Nebraskan Likely to Meet Defeat at Start

BALTIMORE, June 25--All hope of averting a fight from the fall of the gavel in the Democratic national convention vanished last night when the national committee approved the selection of former Judge Parker of New York as temporary chairman, in defiance of the threat of William Jennings Bryan to make an issue of the alleged conservatism of Judge Parker as opposed to the progressivism which the Nebraskan declares should prevail.

An effort was made by the national committee yesterday to placate Mr. Bryan, but a conference resulted in complete failure. Mr. Bryan would not recede from the position he had taken and last night prepared to make his fight from the floor of the convention today to rally progressives to his standard in opposition to Judge Parker.

Mr. Bryan announced that if no other good progressive could be prevailed upon to make the race, he would enter the field himself as the opponent of Judge Parker.

The Nebraskan, three times the candidate of his party for the presidency, stood out yesterday as the dominant figure in the convention. All contingencies of the future, including the nomination of a presidential candidate, seemed to hinge upon what he should do. The impression continued to be marked that Mr. Bryan might himself be the ultimate presidential nominee.

Some of his friends declared that he would be voted for in the convention whether formally placed in nomination or not, and they expressed the belief that he would win if the voting should go to a fourth or fifth ballot.

Work Against Coalition

In furtherance of their hope of nominating Mr. Bryan, some of his friends, it is said, are bending their energies to preventing a coalition of the Clark and Wilson forces. They are talking of Bryan and Wilson as a possible ticket, and the suggestion is receiving attention in many quarters. In the event that Mr. Bryan should not be a candidate himself for temporary chairman, it was said he might urge Senator John W. Kern of Indiana, his running mate of four years ago, for the presidency.

The leaders expect Mr. Bryan to enter the race. The controversy over the chairmanship is looked forward to with trepidation by some of the leaders and by the supporters of several presidential aspirants. One of the most interesting developments looked for is the stand to be taken by the Champ Clark delegates. A large number of these already has been pledged to support the choice of the national committee whoever he might be. This action was regarded in the state delegations as distinctly an anti-Bryan move. There has been a long-standing friendship between Mr. Bryan and Speaker Clark. The delegates to the convention are wondering if today's battle will show a rupture. It is a coincidence that Mr. Bryan is arraying himself against the only man

GOMPERS AND OTHERS AGAIN SENTENCED

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and John Mitchell, the labor leaders, were today held guilty of contempt of court by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, in connection with a court's injunction in the Buers Stove & Range Company boycott case.

They will attempt to appeal again to the Supreme Court of the United States, which reversed their former conviction.

Justice Wright sentenced Gompers to one year, Morrison to six months and Mitchell to nine months. These sentences are the same imposed on the men upon their previous conviction.

Justice Daniel Wright announced the decision of the court. It covered 72 closely typewritten pages and took about two hours to read.

Bondsmen were on hand and attorneys for the labor leaders gave notice of an intention to file an appeal, to have the Supreme Court review the judgment. In its previous review on the case the Supreme Court reversed the conviction, on the ground that the contempt proceedings had been improperly instituted. New proceedings were at once begun.

The sentences under the first conviction were: Gompers, one year; Morrison, six months; Mitchell, nine months.

The charge was that the three men, as officers of the American Federation of Labor, through the organization's official publication, had disregarded Justice Gould's injunction against the publication of the Buers Stove & Range Company's name in its "Boycott List."

THE AMAZING FRANKNESS OF ISMAY.

The testimony of J. Bruce Ismay before the British Titanic board of inquiry is perhaps the most remarkable that has yet been given in all the investigation that has been conducted into the disaster. He said that it was not to be expected that Capt. Smith should slow down after receiving ice warnings, and asserted that the commander was justified in running at full speed through the ice fields. "If the lookout could see far enough ahead to clear the ice," he also declared that he had never considered the possibility of the Titanic having to use her lifeboats to save the lives of her passengers in the event of her foundering, regarding the boats more as a means of taking people off other vessels in trouble or landing the company of the Titanic in the event of her going ashore. He had no reply to make to the suggestion of Lord Mersey that the lifeboats might be needed in case the ship were on fire.

This is a frank exposition of the attitude taken until the Titanic disaster by those responsible for the conduct of the great ocean liners. They went upon the theory that the ships were unsinkable; that they could be handled with precision in all circumstances, and that they could be raced to the limit of speed whatever the conditions. The doctrine that it was safer to go through the ice field at top speed than to feel the way along under half or third speed might have been defended as an academic proposition but for the demonstrated fact of its total futility. One of the plainest disclosures of the testimony in the Titanic disaster is that if five minutes more of warning had been given of the actual presence of ice ahead, on possibly three minutes, the ship could have cleared that particular berg. As it was she struck only a glancing blow as she was turning, this sort of blow, however, proving the most disastrous that could have been inflicted. It must be borne in mind in connection with Ismay's statement that owing to carelessness, to put the case mildly, the men in the crew's nest were not supplied with binoculars and on this account were unable to give sufficient warning of ice ahead to enable the ship to effect a clearance. For the lack of a fifty-dollar pair of glasses some seventeen hundred people were sacrificed.

The Ismay theory of lifeboat equipment is interesting. According to it vessels have been equipped with boats chiefly for altruistic purposes, really a considerable waste of money if one comes to look at the matter from the usual point of view of great steamship management. Surely the chances of the Titanic going ashore and needing small boats to transfer her company were quite as negligible as the chances of hitting a berg when plowing through an ice field at top speed. The boats were carried, therefore, to give succor to people on other vessels in distress, regardless of the regulation which proportioned the boats to the size and passenger-carrying capacity of the vessels bearing them. Why, then, so many, or why so few, if they were carried to save the lives of the passengers of other vessels? A smaller number would have taken care of the company of a small ship, large ships being as impervious from disaster, according to this doctrine, as the Titanic, but if large ships needed help more boats would be required than the Titanic carried. Of course, the whole thing is grotesquely absurd. Ismay was speaking frankly along the conventional line of confidence in a style of construction and system of management that have been proved by one of the most frightful marine disasters in history to have been utterly unreliable and dangerous. The only question of real importance is how best to insure changes that will make life at sea safer.—Washington Star.

THE LADY AND THE TIGER

Miss Democracy—not the lanky and withered spinster of the jokesmiths, but a plump and rosy damsel good and fair to see—turned from her dresser, ready to descend the stairs and meet the suitors who, at her command, how called in a body. Tammany, the tiger cat, was at hand, and she tapped him on his uplifted muzzle playfully with her fan.

"Tammany, they say you are no the right sort of a pet. I've been advised to get rid of you. But I don't believe them. If I were to turn you out, those nasty republicans would throw the net over you and adopt you themselves. I know the men."

Tammany arched his back, and curved before his mistress as if delighted with her approval.

"Besides, what business of theirs is my taste in pets?"

Another tap on Tammany's muzzle, and his manner showed that so far as he was concerned the republicans might go to hades.

"But a word with you, Tammany, about the company in the parlor." The lady was in such radiant humor she was playful with the cat, and talkative.

"I don't want you to show any preference unless and until I give you the sign. Watch my fan. They'll all offer to pet you. I know the men. But you must make no sign until I make y sign. Now, remember."

Tammany looked wise, and seemed to assent.

"Judge Harmon is the eldest, and a nice old gentleman. A man of his age is so knowing about how to please a woman."

"Then Speaker Clark. He looks like a bishop, but I think he chokes well in going into politics. The church's loss has been the government's gain; and his. I don't think he'd have been a success as a theologian."

"Then Gov. Wilson. A word about him, Tammany. He wears glasses, but doesn't see any farther into things on that account. And you are not to think he does."

"Mr. Underwood, Tammany, is the youngest and handsomest of the bunch, and, I understand, is shy. But I doubt the shyness. Where shyness, in man or woman, is an advertised quality, there's a game on. I'm a little afraid of your shy man. But they do say Mr. Underwood is winning."

"And, Tammany, what do you think? Mr. Bryan is back again! As you know, I like that man. Such courage! Such persistency! Takes ill fortune so well. Such a goon loser. Not as handsome and shapely as when he first came to see me, but, with all his port and the fewer hairs on his head, now, he's all right. I'm glad to see Willie has not grown cold. As a rule, men are so easily discouraged. I like a man who stares and smiles when he hears the word 'no,' and either can't, or won't, understand. That's Willie."

"Now, Tammany, we go down, and both must be on our good behavior."

And the lady and the tiger descended the stairs together to where five well-groomed gentlemen, with wistful eyes and hearts a-thump, were waiting.—Washington Star.

TO PUT ROOSEVELT MEN OFF COMMITTEE

CHICAGO, June 24.—Another climax in the victory of President Taft in the Republican convention was expected to come today with the meeting of the new National Committee.

It was given out as practically certain that Charles D. Hilles, personal secretary of the President, would be selected as chairman of the committee. Members of the committee who are allied with Col. Roosevelt would, it was believed, resign.

Mr. Hilles, forecasting that this would be the result, busied himself in the consideration of men of political power in their home States to fill the places of the Roosevelt men.

The plan discussed by the Roosevelt men was to be present and enter a "silent protest" of the same variety as that presented at the convention.

The meeting was scheduled for 10 a. m. and it was expected that soon thereafter the membership would be called on to sign the pledge, provided for in the resolution adopted in the last minutes of the convention, that they should support the party nominee. This was scheduled to bring the break in the ranks, and it was the announced plan of the Taft men to proceed at once to fill the vacancies that would be caused by the Roosevelt supporters' failure to pledge themselves.

INJURED HIS FINGER

Hoffman, the popular second baseman of the Portsmouth Catholic Union baseball team, met with an accident on Monday that will probably put him out of the game for some time. He was at work on one of the big guns at Fort Stark when he got the middle finger of his left hand caught, badly crushing the end of the member.

who has shared with him the presidential nomination of his party since the memorable campaign of 1896-16 years ago. Judge Parker's comparatively wide margin of success in the national committee, 21 to 20, was taken by many of the leaders as an indication of defeat for Mr. Bryan. The latter's friends declined to put any such interpretation upon the action of the committee.

Conference Fails

That the national committee felt the potency of Mr. Bryan's influence became apparent early yesterday afternoon when a recess was taken to permit a "peace committee" to call on him. The first move of this committee, composed of National Chairman Norma E. Mack and Vice Chairman Hall, was to bring Judge Parker and Mr. Bryan together at a conference. It was said that Judge Parker went over many of the points of his "key-note" speech with Mr. Bryan in the hope of convincing him of the progressive note that it would strike.

The effort was unavailing. Mr. Bryan left the conference held at the national committee headquarters asserting that while the interview was "most pleasant indeed" he had failed to change his attitude on the temporary chairmanship in any way whatever. As the door of the conference room opened and Mr. Bryan stepped briskly out, Judge Parker could be seen within looking wistfully out over the city. The conference had been on one of the upper floors of a headquarters hotel.

A moment after Mr. Bryan had disappeared Chairman Mack came out and asked where he had gone. When told, however, he made no effort to follow, returning to the conference room for a few more minutes with Judge Parker and Vice Chairman Hall. As these three finally emerged they announced that the committee would go ahead and approve the selection of Judge Parker, let the fight come as it would.

It will come after the opening prayer has been uttered by Cardinal Gibbons today when National Chairman Mark presents the name of Judge Parker as temporary chairman.

Seven Candidates in Field.

The convention will get under way today with seven avowed presidential candidates in the field, not one of them with nearly enough delegates instructed or pledged to carry them near the two-thirds vote required to nominate, 728. It had been expected by many political observers that during the two weeks preceding the convention some of the candidates might form a coalition but no such thing has occurred and this fact Mr. Bryan's friends declare augurs well for him.

Mr. Bryan will have his opportunity to speak before the convention, and some of the presidential boomers here are plainly nervous as to the effect he might have.

If he loses as temporary chairman of the convention Mr. Bryan is stated by his state delegation for the committee on resolutions and undoubtedly would be chosen its chairman. As such he would have a leading part in framing the party platform and would present it in person to the convention just prior to calling the roll of states for presidential nominations.

The seven avowed presidential aspirants are: Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri, Representative Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, Gov. Judson Harmon of Ohio, Gov. Simon Baldwin of Connecticut, Gov. John E. Burke of North Dakota and Gov. T. R. Marshall of Indiana.

The P. A. C. took the second game within a week from the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening, and like the game of Friday evening it kept the fans up in the air all of the time. The Champions although they won by a score of 6 to 1, did not get an earned run, for Leary with any kind of support would have shut them out. Leary was only touched for three hits in the first four innings and in the fifth after there had been a chance to retire three men he was found for three more of a very scratchy nature. Russell Weare pitched a fine game for the Champions, allowing three hits, one of these as pretty a homerun as has been made on the grounds. Russell had seven strike outs and he issued four passes. Leary had six strike outs and passed but one man, but his team back of him made six errors while Weare had better support, Mattison and Jewell being the only offenders.

The league seems unfortunate in the umpires on bases, and in the opinion of the fans it would be much better to go back to the single umpire system and let Bill Sheridan do it alone. He would give much better satisfaction for he knows the game and at all times means to be fair. Last night Carlin was on bases and there was much objection to his decisions. In the first inning he declared a man safe before the play had been actually made and in the fourth he got in the way of a play and saved Bill Woods from being put out at third.

First Inning.

The P. A. C. were up and George Woods drove a long fly to Charlie Brackett who was in center and he was slow and lost it. He went to second on the throw and was advanced on a pretty sacrifice by Mattison. Leary to Gowen. Newick struck out and Fisher singled over third and M. Howard fumbled it and Woods scored. W. Woods struck out.

The Y. M. C. A. started with George McPheters being passed. He was advanced to third on Hatch's sacrifice, Locke to Newick and he attempted to score on W. Brackett's punt, which went high and Sperry Locke came in fast and then doubled McPheters at third.

Score--P. A. C., 1; Y. M. C. A., 0.

Second Inning.

The Champions were out in order. Jewell on a bouncer to Hatch and was at first, and Locke and Karlson struck out.

It was the same with the young men. C. Brackett fanned, Remick was out on weak grounder to Weare and Gowen filed out to Newick.

Third Inning.

The P. A. C. added two more in their half. Weare hit to McPheters and George juggled it for a time and Weare was safe. George Woods hit one into right which Remick failed to field properly and Woods stretched it into three bases. Mattison was out on a foul fly which Ralph Brackett made a pretty catch of. Newick hit to McPheters who threw him out at first. Woods scoring on the play. Fisher fanned.

The young men had a chance but failed to take advantage of it. M.

Howard fanned, R. Brackett was safe on Mattison's error. W. Leary fanned and McPheters singled and went to second, with two men on Hatch fanned.

Score--P. A. C., 2; Y. M. C. A., 0.

Fourth Inning.

Bill Woods drew a pass and he went to second on Jewell's single. They were advanced on Locke's bouncer to Leary who threw him out at first. Karlson sent a fly to Hatch and Woods was caught between home and third and was being run down when Carlin the umpire bumped into Hatch knocking the ball out of his hand and Woods was safe back at third. There was a protest but the umpire was alone at fault and the play did not make any difference as Weare fanned.

The Y. M. C. A. scored their only score. Bill Brackett the first man up whaled a high one way over George Woods' head and he was home before the ball was recovered. C. Brackett was passed and was safe at second on a passed ball which Fisher made a quick recovery on. Remick picked up high ones and was out on strikes. Gowen was passed and Weare was having hard work to find the plate, but M. Howard could not wait and struck out and Fisher made a pretty throw to first and caught Gowen on the bag.

Score--P. A. C., 3; Y. M. C. A., 1.

Fifth Inning.

The Champions put the game away in their half after there had been a chance to retire the side. G. Woods was out McPheters to Gowen. Mattison's grounder was fumbled by Hatch and Newick gave Hatch another chance and he fumbled that. Fisher singled scoring Mattison and Will Woods shot one to Hatch who caught Newick at the plate. Jewell singled to left and Fisher and Bill Woods were home. Locke drove one at Leary, who broke it but it was too hot for him to handle and Hatch made an attempt to get Jewell at second, but he was safe. Karlson retired the side Leary to Gowen.

The Y. M. C. A. tried for a few scores. R. Brackett hit a pop fly to Jewell. W. Howard singled and he was advanced to second on Jewell's error of Howard's grounder. McPheters struck out. Hatch drew a pass filling the bases and Bill Brackett hit a long one to right field that Karlson was under, ending the game. The score:

New York, June 25.—Manager Wolverton of the New York Americans is not likely to hold his berth next season. The fans are dissatisfied with him, and Owner Farrell is not pleased. And at that Wolverton has probably done as well as any man could with the material at hand. He is hardly responsible for the poor showing his pitchers have made, and the few men he has added to his string have had no chance to show their worth. Wolverton himself has gone into several games as a pinch hitter and has made timely hits quite frequently. But the Highlanders are in a hard struggle with the St. Louis Browns for the cellar championship, and this perhaps means the end of Wolverton as a big league manager.

HAVERHILL AND PORTLAND
KNIGHTS AT WENTWORTH

The Haverhill Commandery with their guests the Portland Commandery, numbering about two hundred, are at the Hotel Wentworth on a two days' pilgrimage to celebrate St. John's day.

The Portland Commandery went to Haverhill on a special train and were met by the Haverhill Commandery and escorted to Masonic temple where lunch was served. The members of both commanderies then took automobiles, about sixty being required, and came over to the Hotel Wentworth where they arrived at three o'clock.

Stiles Eighth Regiment Band proceeded the commandery by train and gave a concert during the afternoon and evening. The big hotel had been reserved for the Knights and Manager Priest had everything in readiness.

Today the Knights will have a ball game and sports and will leave for Haverhill at three o'clock for home.

OUR CANDIDATES:

For President,
WILLIAM H. TAFT
Of Ohio.

For Vice President,
JAMES S. SHERMAN,
of New York.

Tuesday, June 25, 1912.

The New York World says: We have no great admiration for the Republican bosses who controlled events at Chicago, but so far as they have stood for a government of law and for the integrity of the courts against enemies within their own household they richly deserve commendation. For the staggering blow which they have administered to Caesarism they have earned the gratitude of every true American.

The cutworms have invented a new trick. We found two of them climbing up a bean pole in order to reach a spot where the vine was tender enough to bite without injuring their confounded teeth.—Boston Globe.

It is to be sincerely hoped that none of these naughty worms will cross the state line and invade the garden that is being so carefully nourished by the editor of the Manchester Union at Londonderry.

The Troy Record says it would seem that the London Daily News is intimately acquainted with the shortcomings of Colonel Roosevelt. In commenting upon the convention at Chicago the News says: "Roosevelt converts every political struggle into a personal affair. His own ego chases away such paltry matters as principles. It is always a bad thing for a nation to be asked to vote on personality instead of principles, for personality is an appeal to passion and principle is an appeal to reason. To English eyes, at least, Roosevelt's personality is not inspiring—enormous energy without concentration, unlimited rhetoric without conviction, fierce enthusiasms which never breed action, insatiable appetite for commonplaces and no real thinking." In seeing Roosevelt as others see him, the American public must concede that it has been decidedly indifferent to the failings of the former President. The indifference has been responsible for a movement which is seriously imperiling the strength of the National Republican party.

The split in the Republican party, says the Lewiston Sun, makes it easy for the Democrats. Perhaps. But when you look into the Democratic domestic circle, there are quarrels, and selfishness, that may make it easy to defeat the Democrats. The hostility of Bryan to Judge Parker. The determination of Tammany hall to dictate. The critical value of the vote of New York city. The danger of losing votes to Roosevelt if the candidate is too conservative. The danger of losing votes to Taft if the candidate is too progressive. If Bryan should control the convention, name the candidate, and write the platform, the good qualities of Taft would show up brighter and more attractive. If, on the other hand, Bryan is as decisively beaten as Roosevelt, there is the danger that the Bryan radicals and the Roosevelt radicals may find a way to work together. It was President Taft's duty to stay in the fight that Roosevelt forced upon him; it may be the duty of Bryan and Parker to take themselves out of the way, to give their party the best chance to get together.

Bird's-Eye Views.

A nomination of Alton B. Parker for temporary chairman would give Mr. Bryan another opportunity to extend counsel and support to the former democratic candidate.

Baltimore seems to be naturally selected as a place of assemblage for the discussion of more or less painful topics. The Maryland dentists have just held a convention there.

It is disappointing. None of the pictures show that Col. Roosevelt is alighting from the train jumped off the cow-catcher.

Everybody on the hotel piazzas of a convention town is liable to be found talking political scandal.

The Chicago convention has been policed by 1100 men, but, according to all accounts, the lookout facilities are woefully inadequate.

The ex-president opposes the steam roller when the presidents attempt to use it, forgetting that he gave him the lessons in the art.

July promises to be a quiet month. The nominations will have been made and the politicians will have taken to their summer vacations.

The days of the muckraking magazine seem to be at an end. Another one has suspended publication. When will the muckraking politician follow?

There is always a stage in a political controversy where cheers do not help and hisses do not hurt.

A nasty mix-up at the get away is always calculated to encourage hopes for a dark horse.

There may have been some resemblance to Lincoln's statesmanship in modern political activity. But this is not a bit like it.

CURRENT OPINION

BY A LEADING CLERGYMAN
In the World's Work Magazine

IS THE MINISTRY LOSING STANDING?

WE ministers may talk and write about the church just "waking up to its mission," that "the opportunity of the church was never greater," that "the spiritual power of the church was never so strong," and the "call to the church to be the moral leader never so loud and insistent," we may assure ourselves and one another that we are the most needed workers in the divine vineyard. Yet we cannot get away from the wretched, discouraging feeling that the world—and not the worst part of the world either—has repudiated us and the institution we are trying to hold together.

And I cannot see how any minister can escape being extremely pessimistic as to the worth of his work when he feels it necessary, as he often does to advertise conspicuously that the "service tonight will be entirely musical," with perhaps something smaller than a sermonette thrown in; or when he must give up preaching on a Sunday evening and have instead, an "at home" function in the church serving refreshments and adding zest to the occasion by something approaching theatricals.

resent, as an arrogant assumption, the suggestion that the mayor of a city would make a more likely candidate for president than the governor of the state.

When Col. Roosevelt started for Chicago, the baseball fans could not help wondering whether it was to be another example of Casey at the bat.

The New York man who gave his wife a nine-cent wedding ring is being denounced. He is evidently in possession of important information as to how the bachelors can be persuaded into matrimony.

The prediction is being made that congress will be in session all summer. Should this be true, with two national conventions, followed by a presidential campaign, we are surely in for a hot old summer of it.

A man who is giving the best of his life to helping the boys of New York said recently: "The boy problem is not a boy problem but a man problem, for the boy is the only stuff in the world we have to make men out of."

Photos of Bryan and Mack copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.
The committee on arrangements has selected Judge Alton B. Parker of New York for temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention. William J. ### A Gaso-Line or Two.

I bought myself an automo
A day or two or three ago.
It cuts, ere I can make it go,
A ton of gasoline or so.

The carburetor's on the blink,
The radiator wants a drink,
The sparking plugs are black as ink,
The valves need grinding, too, I think.

I purchased me a two-luged nag,
A weary boast with constant fag,
He'd speed whenever I wished to lag;
When I would race, his knees would sag.

His shadow made him run away,
And he'd be gone the livelong day,
To come back home when dawn was gray
And eat twelve dollars' worth of hay.

So now I drive the motor car,
I drive it near, I drive it far.
The bills my nerves no longer jar,
The cost's the same, and there you are.

—Houston Post.

WAS SAVED BY THE DOCTORS

Victim of Robbers Recovered Because the Physicians Didn't Probe for the Bullets.

The expert medical witness had just descended from the stand when a recess was announced in the criminal court and so he paused for a few moments to chat with Judge Ralph S. Latslaw, who dearly delights in twitting the medicos.

"Whenever I see a doctor on the stand," related the judge, "I am forcibly reminded of an experience when I was an assistant prosecuting attorney many years ago.

"A storekeeper on East Ninth street was shot by robbers when he refused to open his cash drawer. Four bullets found him as their mark and when officers arrived on the scene he was lying on the floor, dead to all outward appearances. Doctors, who had hurried to the store, took a look at him, shook their heads and went away. Not one of them offered to probe for the bullets.

"And do you know," smiled the judge to the doctor, "that was what saved him. The storekeeper recovered and is in business to this very day. He still carries the bullets, one of them in his head. Now what would have happened to him, doctor, if they had probed for the bullets?"

But by this time the expert was gone.—Kansas City Journal.

BREAD OF VIKINGS FOUND

Made From Pine Bark and Pea Meat, It Was Discovered in Gothland.

An interesting find was made at Ljunga, Gothland, by Dr. Schnittger, professor at Stockholm university. This is some bread that dates from the time of Vikings.

Microscopical examination has shown this bread to be made from pine bark and pea meat, thus proving the fact that peas were grown in Sweden as far back as a thousand years ago.

Archeological excavation has so far brought to light only a few specimens of bread dating from ancient or prehistoric times. The few loaves, excavated in Egypt and in Swiss lake dwellings are of the highest archeological interest.

In the northern countries only one or two finds of this kind have so far been made, foremost among which should be mentioned a corn meal loaf dating from the fourth century A. D. which was discovered by Dr. Schnittger in 1898 in connection with the excavation of Boberg castle.—Scientific American.

Sort of Blanket Ballot.
Senator Lee S. Overman of North Carolina has a colored maid servant that has been in his family since the days of slavery. She is a loyal servant, and thinks that "Mahstah Lee" represents all that is best in human kind.

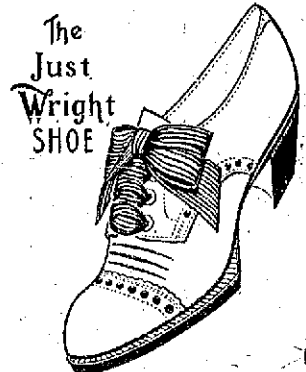

When Overman was running for the senate the first time, Mrs. Overman had a telephone connection with the legislative chamber at Raleigh, and got the news of each ballot as it was taken. The old colored mammy didn't know what a ballot was, but she caught the idea that the more Overman got the better his wife was pleased. That night she was overheard praying aloud in her room:

"Oh, Lawd," she said, "take Mahstah Lee in the hollow of yo' ban' an' jes' covah him with them 'ere ballots whatevah they is, and make him get dah."

Synthetic Diamonds.

There recently appeared in Paris some diamonds having all the earmarks of the genuine article, and they were offered to a number of dealers at very attractive prices. Certain rigid tests were applied by experts engaged in the trade, with the result that they were proven to be slightly different from natural stones. The diamonds are believed to be manufactured by a synthetic process, but by experts who examined them they were claimed to be genuine. From this it seems the secret of making diamonds is really being solved, and it will not be long until this new product of the electric furnace will take its place with synthetic rubies, sapphires and other manufactured gems which are now sold in the open market.—Exchange.

HER BROTHER

Good Picture Program and Vaudeville at Music Hall

The feature picture at Music Hall is entitled "Her Brother" and depicts the experience of a young man in the wild West, who falls among evil associates. The young man who is engaged to marry his sister is ordered to the West for the benefit of his health and lands in Montana where the brother is playing in hard luck.

A display of money by the young man just from the East causes the other to waylay and rob him. By the description of the thief "Tom" is pursued, arrested and brought face to face with his accuser. He, however, recognizes the culprit as the brother of his intended and he tells the captors that he is not the guilty party.

After a heart to heart talk between the two "Tom" reforms and goes East again. Later the two meet at the home of the sister and everything ends well. Five reels of first run pictures and two good vaudeville acts constitute the program at this popular house of amusement. Electric fans keep the house cool and comfortable.

DOCTOR'S SHIFT

Now Gets Along Without It.

A physician says: "Until last fall I used to eat meat for my breakfast and suffered with indigestion until the meat had passed from the stomach."

"Last fall I began the use of Grape-Nuts for breakfast and very soon found I could do without meat, for my body got all the nourishment necessary from the Grape-Nuts and since then I have not had any indigestion and am feeling better and have increased in weight."

"Since finding the benefit I derived from Grape-Nuts I have prescribed the food for all my patients suffering from indigestion or over-feeding and also for those recovering from disease where I want a food easy to take and certain to digest and which will not overtax the stomach."

"I always find the results I look for when I prescribe Grape-Nuts. For ethical reasons please omit my name." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The reason for the wonderful amount of nutriment, and the easy digestion of Grape-Nuts is not hard to find.

In the first place, the starchy part of the wheat and barley goes through various processes of cooking, to perfectly change the starch into dextrose or grape-sugar, in which state it is ready to be easily absorbed by the blood.

The parts in the wheat and barley which Nature can make use of for rebuilding brain and nerve centres are retained in this remarkable food, and thus the human body is supplied with the powerful strength producers, so easily noticed after one has eaten Grape-Nuts each day for a week or 10 days.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

African M. E. church, corner of Charles and Mt. Vernon streets, Boston. Mr. Teamoh's popularity in the Masonic order drew a large number to the church, and after the regular services were finished a Masonic ceremony was held.

Among those present were a number of Mr. Teamoh's fellow employees on the Globe, and there were many floral tributes, some from various Masonic bodies with which he had been identified, and a large design from the Globe staff.

Rev. William H. Thomas, who officiated, referred in his eulogy to the fact that Mr. Teamoh had, before his association with the Globe, been editor of the Boston Courant.

"Mr. Teamoh," said Rev. Mr. Thomas, "was elected to the Legislature in 1894 and he was the author of the bill which guaranteed to the citizens of color in this state their rights in public eating houses and other places. He was a member of the fraternities which emphasize the Golden Rule."

After his address, the services were conducted by Edward Everett Brown, past grand master of Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Masons. The pallbearers were Edward Everett Brown, Herbert Belt, Samuel Griffin and George Lewis, all members of lodges to which Mr. Teamoh belonged. They accompanied the body to Portsmouth, N. H., where the interment will be made today. There will be another Masonic ceremony at the grave.

Mr. Teamoh, who lived at 159 Brookline ave., was born in this city, but his wife was a native of Portsmouth.—Boston Globe.

Low Range of Salaries Paid to Higher Class of Educators in the United States.

New York.—The range of salaries for the heads and faculties of state aided institutions of higher learning in this country is given in a bulletin issued by the United States bureau of education.

According to this authority one can see that Bert Williams, the negro comedian, can make a great deal more money than even the highest type of college president. The best paid head of any institution of this class is the president of the University of California, who receives $12,000 a year and a house. The presidents of Illinois' university and Cornell university each receive $10,000 a year and house, while the president of the University of Minnesota gets $10,000 without a house.

From these figures the presidents' salaries run down as low as $2,400. The salaries of the faculty members range from $50 a year for the least paid tutor to $6,000 a year for the best paid full professor, both extremes being touched at Cornell.

The bureau of education's bulletin shows that the United States now contains exactly 100 universities and other institutions of higher education which depend in considerable measure on the state or federal government for their support.

Of these, sixteen are agricultural and mechanical colleges for negroes. Four of these state aided institutions have more than 400 members on their faculties—namely, the University of California, with a faculty of 421; the University of Illinois, with 530; Cornell university, with 652, and the University of Wisconsin, with 486.

Fight in Sight Over Temporary Chair- man--Bryan Opposed to Parker --Convention Opens Today.

BALTIMORE, June 24.—Friends of William J. Bryan served notice on the Democratic National Committee, just before the short recess this afternoon, that if the recommendation by the sub-committee of Ex-Judge Alton B. Parker for temporary chairman of the convention is sustained, they will nominate Mr. Bryan on the convention floor to oppose Judge Parker for the honor.

J. Bruce Kremer, committeeman from Montana, made the declaration of the intention of the progressives.

The selection of Alton B. Parker for this position was first opposed by Ex-Gov. Alva Adams, National committeeman from Colorado. Mr. Adams argued at some length against the appointment of Mr. Parker.

Following Ex-Gov. Adams, Committeeman Williams of Mississippi took the floor to oppose Parker, after which Senator Newlands of Nevada, holding a proxy for Committeeman John Sunderland, spoke in opposition to Parker. He was followed by Mr. Browne of Vermont, who favored the choice of the subcommittee.

Several Speeches Were Made.

After Judge Parker had been placed in nomination before the committee, several speeches were made for and against his selection. No other nominations had been made when the recess was ordered, shortly before 2 p. m.

It was agreed that following the recess, a vote should be taken on a motion to sustain the subcommittee in its recommendation of Judge Parker for temporary chairman. It was following this agreement that Committeeman Kremer announced that the Bryan Democrats would defy the committee if Mr. Parker's name is ratified, and declared that Mr. Bryan would himself lead the fight as a candidate for the chairmanship.

Mr. Kremer's announcement resulted in secret conferences among the party leaders, who have persistently said there would be no compromise on the chairmanship situation.

Bryan Didn't Appear.

Mr. Bryan, true to his announce ment earlier in the day, did not appear before the committee to oppose the selection of Judge Parker as temporary chairman. The news that Mr. Bryan had declared he would personally go before the convention as a candidate against Judge Parker created a considerable stir when the National Committee members assembled.

"Judge Parker will be endorsed for temporary chairman by at least 4 members of the National Committee," said Bozer C. Sullivan of Illinois, as he entered the meeting room with Thomas Taggart of Indiana. "Judge Parker will be the temporary chairman. It makes no difference who opposes him."

Mr. Bryan's refusal to fight the Parker selection before the committee followed a conference with progressive leaders at his hotel. The Nebraska was emphatic in proclaiming the approaching fight in the convention. When he declared that he would be a candidate for temporary chairman himself if the progressives could agree on no one else, he made the assertion with positiveness. "I will be in the fight when the time comes," Mr. Bryan asserted. "I am trying to find a man to be temporary chairman who will be satisfactory to all the progressives."

"Have you found anyone yet?" he was asked.

"Not yet," he replied, "I may do so later. Whether I find one or not, this fight will be made."

Determined Not to Yield.

As the discussion of the temporary chairmanship progressed in the committee room, reports were current that the majority of the members of the committee were determined not to yield to any compromise. Norman E. Mack, chairman of the committee, was among those who steadfastly maintained that the selection of Judge Parker by the subcommittee would be ratified by the full committee and that he would be chosen by the convention, even if a fight should be precipitated by the Bryan forces to prevent it.

Martin J. Wade, National committeeman from Iowa, left the meeting for a few minutes early in the afternoon to confer with constituent delegates, and before returning remarked that it looked "like a fight." He said, however, that friends of Bryan and the progressive cause were advising harmony for the good of the party. The situation presented before the committee promised to assure a long session and a vote on the temporary chairmanship was not taken until late in the day.

Members of contesting delegations who crowded around the National Committee room were told that the committee would probably be unable to bear any contests before night.

With the arrival of the Louisiana delegation the National Committee was informed that rival factions declared to be heard about the alternate who should take the seat of the late Representative Wickliffe. Col. B. J. Vega claims the seat as an alternate. The rival faction asserts that Vega was not elected as an alternate to Wickliffe.

The committee sustained the subcommittee and will recommend Parker for chairman.

Wilson Overturns to Clark.

"During the morning the friends of Gov. Wilson renewed their overtures to the leaders of the movement for Speaker Champ Clark to agree upon a progressive candidate for temporary chairman, to oppose Judge Parker. At the headquarters of Gov. Wilson it was said that any progressive would do.

The Wilson and Bryan leaders openly declared that they had made repeated efforts to join with the Clark people upon a progressive man for temporary chairman, but that the Clark leaders were noncommittal. This, the Wilson managers said, indicated that the Clark people were trying to conceal their hands and would be found voting for Judge Parker.

It was still undecided this morning what candidate the Wilson forces would present to the National Committee, but Josephus Daniels, National committeeman from North Carolina, served notice that he intended to put forward the name of Senator- Elect Ollie James of Kentucky.

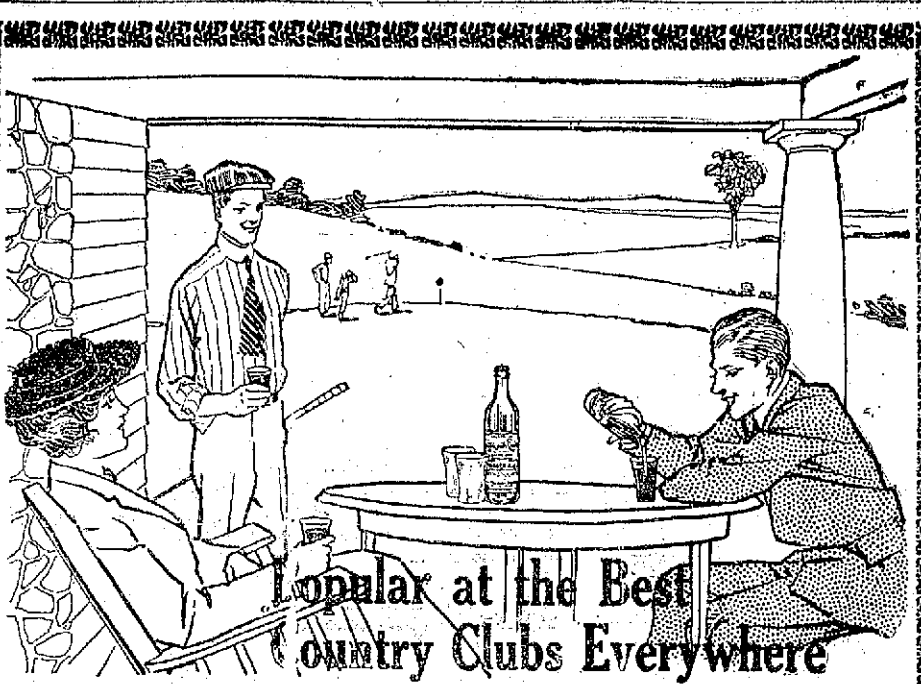

James is a Clark Advocate.

"I shall put Mr. James' name before the convention," said Mr. Daniels this morning. "While he is a Clark man and was the Clark candidate for temporary chairman before the arrangements committee, and though I am a strong Wilson man and would naturally prefer a man with leanings toward the New Jersey Governor, I think Mr. James would be fair to all. There is no reason why Clark folks cannot vote for Mr. James, unless they are committed to some one else."

Mr. Daniels said that the Wilson leaders were ready to accept Senator O. Gorham of New York, Representative Sulzer of New York, Senator Kern of Indiana, Ben Shively of Indiana, Ollie James, Senator Culberson of Texas or Representative Henry of Texas for temporary chairman.

Judge Parker's friends were still confident this morning that the temporary New York Jurist would be named by the National Committee by a clear majority, and they further state that the convention will sustain the committee.

Mr. Bryan conferred in the morning

IT'S the appealing taste of "Clicquot Club" and its wholesomeness which makes it so popular among the discriminating. On a hot, sultry day, or after some bracing exercise, there is nothing so refreshing and satisfying.

Clicquot Club GINGER ALE

The sugar used in "Clicquot Club" (and only sugar is used) is the best grade of extra granulated sugar, refined to order specially for Clicquot Club Ginger Ale. The ginger extract is prepared in our laboratory, a special process being used to eliminate the astringent resin, which causes constipation. The oils of limes and lemons are pressed directly from the real fruits; and the water is crystal-pure spring water from Clicquot Springs.

Thus the best that the world affords is combined with a skill and carefulness which assures wholesomeness and delicacy.

PIGS LIKE THE BOTTLE Small Porkers at New Castle Have To Be Nursed.

The Boston Sunday Post of June 23 had the following item:
Mrs. Loren Hubley of New Castle says that bringing up pigs on a bottle is nearly as hard as raising children by the same process.
Recently a mother pig owned by William Meloon a stablekeeper died leaving 16 small porkers, which the owner decided to give away to the neighbors, and Mrs. Hubley was favored with two whose growth she is promoting by the aid of a nursing bottle.
The shoats have become genuine pets and can be seen following her about the town like well-bred dogs. The most of her troubles are at night when the pigs awaken and set up a terrible crying for their bottle. After 10 or 15 minutes at nipple they drop off in a sound sleep till morning.

A map and plans of the proposed bridge across San Francisco bay to Oakland have been filed with the board of supervisors in San Francisco.

The roadway will swing 150 feet above the water, hang from ten steel and concrete piers, constituting eight arches. The total suspension will be 17,840 feet, in sections 2,230 feet long. Four thousand feet will rest on Yerba Buena Island, which will divide the structure. The San Francisco approach will take off from the summit of Telegraph Hill, which has been reserved by the government for a light station.

HE KNOWS SHIPPING

George S. Wasson, the well known artist and author of "Kittery Point, Me.", takes a keen interest in all things relating to shipping. He is one of the officers of a lately organized society having for its dual object the development of inland water ways and the revival of the American merchant marine.

Mr. Wasson's son, David A. Wasson, also has a penchant for the sea and friends of the young man claim he can recognize any coast-going vessel as soon as he focuses his powerful marine glasses on the peak of one of her spinnakers which is almost as good as the Nantucket skipper who used to get his bearings in the fog by tasting the particles from the sea-bottom adhering to his sounding lead. —Observer "Citizen" Boston Post.

WATER WAGON AND HAY CART STOP TRAFFIC

A farmer from across the river had his troubles on Market street on Monday and there was also plenty of trouble for others for a while, all due to the smashing of the hind wheel of a hay cart which caused a big load of hay to be dumped in front of the 5 and 10 cent store. In the height of the trouble the man with the water wagon came along and offered his services to help clear the street by pushing the hay cart to one side. He backed the cold water vehicle up against the wrecked hay cart and gave a pull on the reins. His horses went down on the pavement and there was more excitement. The usual crowd that always gathers were on hand and everybody was busy telling what ought to be done. Finally the farmer's rig was pushed up close to the sidewalk and another wagon sent to pick up his load of fodder.

SOME SPEED ON CONCORD LINE

There was certainly some speed to the passenger train which runs between this city and Concord on Monday. It took just three hours and sixteen minutes to get to the capital city on the way up and three hours and ten minutes to get from Concord to Portsmouth on the return trip. Just think of it, over three hours covering 50 miles. Can you beat it? There was no fault of the train crew either way but the delay was caused mostly by the long waits at stations, and junction points especially.

With this kind of service between these points it will soon be necessary for Portsmouth people to remain over in Concord in order to do any business there. We have faster freights running on the Portland division between Boston and Portland.

"The Freezer with the Aerating Dasher"

The most wonderful of all freezers. By means of its astonishing aerating spoons it whips air into every particle of the freezing cream, making ice cream that is a revelation in texture and delicacy. It breaks all records in speed—makes perfect ice cream in 3 minutes. Requires much less labor and uses less ice and salt than any other freezer.
